

Without the cares we grown folks meet, Without a thought of pain. The baby with its pattering feet Goes to the shrine again To stand, enraptured, gazing wide,

To worship there in glee, Where super-joys of Christmastide Reward the devotee.

Charles Frederick Wadsworth.

THE W. L. ROBINSON CO. Follow and Clean Up Sale!

The Success of our Thanksgiving Sale has prompted us to Continue it in the form of a regular clearance and Clean-Up Sale

The People have shown us by their continued coming to our store, in Crowds, for many miles outside of Liberty, and buying such bilis as we have not sold since Flush Times of 1919-20 that they do really appreciate good merchandise at such values as we are giving each and every day.

You cannot fool the people, and such has never been our policy nor intention, but when they see goods displayed in such manner that every one can examine and see for themselves, and judge the val ues, it is self-convincing; and so, through December and the Holidays we are going to continue to receive new merchandise from St. Louis, New Orleans, Memphis, and Eastern Markets; the newest and best of everything, and will continue to display and sell at such price that will make

Our Store Headquarters for the Whole Countryside.

It will be to your interest to come and give us a look, no matter where you live for we know positively we can save you money on your winter purchases,
